WALTHAM SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The history of Waltham Senior High School clearly illustrates the spirit of progress which has been and still is inherent in the citizens of Waltham. In 1826 a state law decreed that towns having over five hundred families should maintain a more advanced school than the district school, which was about the only public educational institution at this time. Waltham, although having fewer than the required five hundred families to come under the law, showed its fine spirit by soon forming plans for a higher school. After much discussion over the location, the town decided on the spot where the present North Junior High stands.

The building erected at this spot received the title of the Town School. Its one classroom was on the ground floor, and for many years the Town Hall occupied the second story. To us, the equipment was crude and the customs strange. Three weeks in August sufficed for a summer vacation, and on completion of his course the student simply left school, there being no formal graduation exercises.

In 1849 the Town School became a true high school and expanded onto the second floor. Improvements were made in the grading system, and mathematics and language courses were added among other changes. During the 1850's the importance of music was recognized by the adoption of music courses which have formed the basis for the present day enthusiasm for this branch of art in Waltham as exemplified by the Band and Orchestra. Even at this early date the school gained the distinction of preparing students directly for college, climinating preparatory school training.

When the North Grammar School was built on the site of the Town School in 1869, the High School moved to the corner of Church and School Streets and became known, in recent times, as the Old High. Here it served the Community well, and numbered among its faculty such fine teachers as the English author, George Gissing.

With the incorporation of Waltham as a city in 1884, and its consequent expansion, a larger building became necessary. This was built in 1902, and is the central structure of the present High School. Following the World War population growth became so great that large wings were added on the east and west ends of the central pile. These, completed in 1935, provided sufficient extra space to permit the use of one session instead of two as had previously been necessary. A year later a large modern gymnasium in the rear of the east wing was completed, permitting the old gym to be used for a cafeteria. The most recent addition to the school has been the five new rooms on the back of the east wing. These were completed in 1939.

Growing on the interior, as well as the exterior, by the addition of many new courses and such departments as the excellent Commercial Department, the school has constantly maintained its high rank among secondary institutions, and stands as an enduring momument to the initiative and perseverance of the citizens of Waltham.

William Allen Richards, '40.

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1940 of Waltham Senior High School, dedicate this Commencement Issue of the Mirror to our Headmaster, Mr. Charles W. Goodrich, whom we have come to honor and esteem. His friendly manner and sincere interest have given us encouragement through our high school days, and his memory will be with us long after we have left Waltham High. To him, therefore, both as our Headmaster and as a worthy and sincere guide, we express our heartfelt appreciation.

Class Poem

BE THOU OUR GUIDE

I.

The paths of life are numerous;
Temptations to us throng;
Each one his path must now select.
God, show us right from wrong!

II.

Our preparation now complete,
We start our lives today;
That each may one day know success
Desert us not, we pray.

III.

The door we soon shall open wide
To face a troubled world.
Protect us, and our goals we'll reach
With banners yet unfurled!

IV.

And as each one draws near the fork
Of Life's uncertain way,
His footsteps guide, with rectitude,
Lest he should go astray.

V.

For those who err in choice of path,
Or helpful gestures spurn,
We ask a kindly word that they
May to Thy path return.

VI.

And to the rest, who do select
The path of righteousness,
Extend Thy hand, we beg of Thee
And let them not digress!

VII.

And now at last the time has come
To swing the portals wide
And face the future, well prepared.
May Heaven be our guide!

Class History

History might be defined as a backward look at past experiences. If it were possible to turn back the pages of time instead of only looking backward, any member of the class of 1940 could find innumerable experiences which he would gladly relive, packed in the three short years of his high-school life.

Let us turn back the years to the day in September, 1937, when 455 members of our class entered Waltham High School for the first day of a three-year stay. Standing upon the threshold of a new era in our lives, we looked ahead with vague misgivings as to whether our so-called superiors would haze us, and whether the teachers were as relentless and the work as hard as our predecessors had ominously warned us.

A few weeks were spent reviewing forgotten work, memorizing the complex arrangement of rooms, and determining which recesses should be taken. When we were completely organized, we chose a nominating committee and elected our officers. In a close contest, Richard Johnstone won the Presidency, Bertillie Lochman was chosen Vice-President, Elizabeth Quigley, Secretary-Treasurer, and Sumner Hammond, Auditor. Thus supplied with officers we became a unit to be known to all persons thereafter as the Class of 1940.

The first football team to which we officially lent our support left much to be desired. It left a 26—6 loss at the hands of Newton to be avenged, and also convinced us that while Caesar had his Ides of March, Waltham High always has its last Thursday in November.

In early December we witnessed our first Dramatic Club Play — "Growing Pains", heartily enjoying the short interval while Robert Clemence was minus his trousers.

With Christmas vacation over we concentrated our attention on basketball and hockey. In both these sports the boys from Waltham High made a good name for themselves; the hockey team captured the Brown Trophy and the basketball team ended in the first division.

By this time having learned that "All Gaul is divided into three parts," our Latin divisions cheerfully told us that our motto, "Labor omnia vincit", means "Work conquers all". After two quarters at Senior High School we had discovered that work did have a lot to do with conquering and also with getting good marks.

In March we first realized our social obligations as students at Waltham High. The Sophomore Dance came along with the "Big Apple" as a feature, causing the young ladies to look in the mirror and the boys to straighten their ties, seek confidence to ask the girl of their choice to accompany them, and to ask Dad for an advance on next week's allowance. When the evening was over, everyone felt that he was far from being a "silly" sophomore, as our obliging upper classmen had labelled each of us.

In June we saw our first graduation, discovering that we were not the only ones who loved Waltham High and that we were almost juniors. —What did you say? Sophomores? What are those things?

June to September. Ah! Bliss! Spare time, rest, and no homework. Thank the Lord for vacations!

In September, 1938, two things of note happened to Waltham: the hurricane and the entrance of the distinguished members of the Class of 1940 into our institution of learning as juniors!

Soon, when our unused brain-cells had been put into action again, we chose those who were to control our destinies for the coming year. Again Dick Johnstone was chosen President; Bertille Lockman, Vice-President; Marion Wagner, Secretary-Treasurer; and Sumner Hammond, Auditor.

Led by Phil Caminiti, the football team of 1938 turned in a surprisingly successful record, yielding only to Medford and Lynn English and climaxing the season with a 7—7 tie with Brockton. The late period touchdown had all standing up and cheering. We left Brockton with a distinct feeling of satisfaction considering the game a moral victory for Waltham.

We were not, however, as successful in hockey as we had been in football. The duo of Schmaltz and Hedges proved deadly in the Needham game, and Bob Mason added the scoring power necessary for B. C. High to beat Waltham by the tight score of 4—3. Thus entering the playoffs with two defeats, one lonely Framingham goal was enough to eliminate our team. A smooth-running basketball team took the Suburban League crown and added to the success of Waltham High athletically.

With time marching on as usual, the Class of 1940 soon found that spring was upon them,—spring, love, and the Junior Prom. Carefully planned and executed by a competent committee and aided even by the weatherman, the greatest social event of the Junior Year was a success in every way, even financially.

In June we said good-bye to the Class of 1939, watching many friends and companions regretfully leave the school for the last time. It was hard to believe that two years of our high-school life were behind us and that we were now seniors, those lofty and almighty individuals whom we had always envied and whom we had looked up to with reverence.

Returning from ten weeks of leisure, we seniors found that there were now freshmen in the school and that the corridors were more congested than ever. Settling down, however, to the well-accustomed routine, we again elected our officers. For the third time, Richard Johnstone was chosen President; Bertillie Lochman, Vice-President; Marion Wagner, Secretary-Treasurer; and Robert Martin was selected as Auditor.

With the formality of election completed, the Class of 1940 devoted their energy every Saturday to cheering on the football squad. Capably led by Co-Captains Johnstone and Goguen, the team fought bravely although in many cases luck was against them.

Memory of Thursday, November 30, 1939:

When the Brockton band marched in the formation of a turkey, it played the death march, and many of us are still wondering whether that selection was for the turkey or for Waltham High.

SENIOR PHOTOGRAPH COMMITTEE

Recalling the hockey campaign, we remember that the team made the best record since 1936, winning seven straight games and losing to Needham in the play-offs only because luck was against them.

In the midst of the hockey season came the Christmas vacation and then the Senior Dance. Held in early January, the affair was in all ways a great success, breaking exactly even financially.

Soon after the Senior Dance the Picture Committee was elected: then we all realized that our Senior year and our brief sojourn in Waltham High was rapidly approaching the end.

In April it was shown that the Class of 1940 was not lacking in dramatic talent. The Senior Play "June Mad" was played successfully to a capacity audience. "Penny" and her red dress, "Elmer", and "Milly Lou" made a hit with the audience; while the cast was more interested in getting the ice cream for "Chuck" on time with as little depreciation as possible.

The remainder of the year was taken up mainly by the exchange of pictures and plans for graduation and the future.

Now as we stand here and look back at the faint footprints left in the sands of time by the Class of 1940, we feel that whatever the future may hold, the days spent at Waltham High will always live in our memories as the happiest and most advantageous years of our life. Wherever our separate paths may lead us, let us hope that the knowledge we have obtained here will serve us well, and that the members of the Class of 1940 will make their marks in the vast world stretching before us as we again stand on the threshold of another portion of our lives.

EDWIN S. BRIGGS.

Class Will

Know all men by these presents, that we, the Class of 1940, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and wishing to direct in what manner our estate shall be disposed of after our departure, do make and publish this our last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time heretofore made. After the payment of our just debts, we bequeath and devise as follows:

To Mr. Goodrich, our distinguished and appreciated headmaster, we leave a machine that automatically repeats at the end of each assembly —"First two rows may file", also, we leave some new school desks in order that the present engraved twosomes will not keep next year's seniors day-dreaming by arousing their curiosity as to whom the initials stand for.

To Mr. Ward, our indispensable submaster and frequent participant in lively arguments with his IV A1 class, we leave a senior English class who will really "Scorn delights and live laborious days"—quote from Milton, just in case you had forgotten.

To Miss Woodward, the head of our business department, we leave the television system to enable her to be in her office, in the type-writing room, and telephoning all at the same moment.

To Miss Allen, our verbs, adjectives, and elliptical clause addict, we leave a class of Secretarial Seniors whose mentality ratings will equal just half as high a score as those of her IV G boys.

To Bobby Lane, our pink and white, dimpled face, class baby, we leave a petit, woolly lamb's jacket—need we say what for?

To Janice Loving, a girl whose favorite expression is, "What will we do tonight?"—we leave that curly-haired, brown-eyed senior who, we are sure, will supply a very suitable answer.

To Our Inferiors?—the class of 1941, we leave, sorrowfully, the lofty position of dictatorship of the school, a new set of freshmen and sophomores to oppress, and a succession of events similar to those which brought us so much pleasure during our all too short reign as seniors.

From Richard Daniels, our good looking six foot three inch senior, we have permission to leave at least his last three inches to that cute little trick "Splinter" Doherty, who is master of ceremonies down in the cafeteria.

To Marion Wagner, a true example of a sweet and demure senior, we leave a roll of adhesive tape to aid in keeping her fingers crossed in future years for the same hero that she has crossed them for during her high school days.

To David Fitzgerald, we leave some soothing syrup for his victims, to take out the sting of his pungent sarcasm.

To Henry Kelly, our modern version of the cave man, we leave a book of ten easy lessons on how to become the world's champion prize fighter—he certainly has all the requirements.

To Hector Rousseau, our short, fiery, "Generalissimo" of the ice, we leave that small bundle of "Sweetness" who resides on the well known island.

To Betty Andrews, our Jane Arden of the senior class, we leave our thanks for the fine work she has done in writing our "Senior High School Notes" and all our best wishes for a very successful future.

To Guy Sanderson, we leave the suggestion that he find a Waltham High girl who will compare favorably with girls from neighboring cities to prevent his Oh! so scarce energy from being exhausted by too numerous trips outside the limits of our fair city. Give us a "break" Guy.

To Anne Drury, better known as " that kindergarten Mae West" (quote from the Senior Play), we leave Mervyn—Good Luck, Anne!

To the Boys' Gym, we leave, upon request, a six-foot mirror to eliminate the "scramble" for possession of the two by four brass plate on the gym door now used for the sake of vanity.

To the Boys and Girls of the Junior Class, we bequeath the "Student Advises Student" correspondence which we have been posting on the bulletin board in the library. Who knows—one of you may take the place of Dorothy Dix or George Antheil in some future year.

To Gavin Carter, that speedy ball toter of the backfield, we leave a cook book so he may learn a few new dishes to supplement his well known specialty, the Bud Carter Goulash.

To Edwin Briggs, the human "whiz" of our class, we leave the position that Clifton Fadiman now holds on the "Information Please" program.

To Barbara Weeks, our D. A. R. girl, who is first in marks,

first in music,

first in the hearts of her fellow classmates, we leave our tribute to a very lovely person.

We hereby nominate and appoint Miss Allen, Mr. Mitchell, and Mr. Ward, all of Waltham, County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as co-executors of this, our last Will and Testament, and we hereby direct said Executors to pay all our just debts, costs of administration, and inheritance taxes out of our estate, and we hereby request that they be exempt from furnishing any surety or sureties on their official bonds.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand and seal and publish and declare this to be our last Will and Testament, in the presence of the Witnesses named below, this fifth day of June, A. D. 1940.

Signed—The Class of 1940
—by WILMA GREENLAW.

Signed, sealed, and published by the said Class of 1940 as and for their last Will and Testament, in the presence of us, who at their request, and in their presence, and in the presence of each other, have subscribed our names as witnesses thereto.

Codicil To The Last Will And Testament Of The Class Of 1940

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Know all men by these presents that we, the class of 1940, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and wishing to direct in what manner our estate shall be disposed of after our decease, do make and publish this Codicil to our last Will and Testament dated June 5, 1940, hereby ratifying and confirming said Will in all respects except as changes by this instrument.

We hereby nominate and appoint Barbara Weeks to be the Executrix of this, the Codicil to our last Will and Testament, and we hereby request that she be exempt from furnishing any surety or sureties on her official bond.

To Priscilla Gray, our girl most likely to succeed in the senior class, we leave this alarm clock set to gain in time so that instead of the conventional twenty-four hours a day, she will have twenty-seven. In these three additional hours she will be able to take lessons in deep sea diving, Russian folk dancing, and also playing the slide trombone.

To Robert Clemence, the boy most likely to succeed in our class of 1940, we leave this steel filing cabinet to keep a record of all his present and future achievements.

To Richard Johnstone, our most popular boy by a majority vote, we leave not the book of "How to Make Friends and Influence People," which Dick doesn't need, but we leave an anonymous book titled "How to Find Time to Study and Still keep My Friends."

To Bertillie Lochman, our girl with the personality plus and also the most popular girl of the 1940 class, we leave this little portable house as a retreat for her when HER public and the reporters demand too much of her attention in putting her radiant personality into the headlines, thus leaving her no time for rest. For quiet places to situate this house, we suggest Poppenesset Beach on the cape, Hartland, Vermont, in the "sticks", and Tatamagouche, Nova Scotia, which contains at least two other houses now.

To Robert Martin, the 'andsome lad with that twinkle in his eye, we leave this bag of candy kisses. If your present "la femme" charm grows old some day, Bob, (which we doubt), we are sure that these kisses will suffice for an evening or two.

To Ruth Dermott, the Venus of the class of 1940, we leave this little camera for her future use when she is a busy photographer's model posing for such advertisements as refrigerators, Luckies 2-1, and Lux toilet soap along with the Hollywood stars.

To Hugh Gardner, our 1940 Jack Benny, we leave this Jiminy Cricket, his private conscience, that will warn him to stop on the safe side of his clowning.

To Robert Stevens, our Adolphe Menjou, better known as the best dressed boy in the class of 1940, we leave these one-way-stretch, emerald colored garters to prevent that bulging at the ankles which is sure to show with rolled up breeches.

To Noel Temple, whose clothes put her right into the debutante class, we leave this genuine talon zipper to save her the embarrassment of ever being pointed out as a horrible example of the modern disease—Gaposis!

To Robert Clemence, our next Mickey Rooney, we bestow on Bob this Pinocchio doll for a puppet show of the future in token of our belief that he will outstrip Walt Disney's finest achievements.

To Hope Goodell, voted our best actress after her wonderful performance of "Penny" in the senior play, we leave this box of Kleenex to take care of any excess facial cream that she might use such as that which she displayed in the South Junior Auditorium.

To Elizabeth Quigley, our class social light, we leave this Hawaiian guitar and a hound-trip ticket to Honolulu to serenade the someone, unknown to us, who sent her that cute grass skirt and lei.

To Dick Johnstone, our local replica of the highly publicized "Superman", we leave a large bottle of the perfect remedy for all discomfiture due to overindulgence in the line of athletic endeavor, Sloans' Liniment!

To Edna Mitchell, our most athletic girl, we leave this set of Indian Clubs to keep those muscles always in trim. Don't forget your daily dozen, Edna.

To Mildred Curran, our exotic black-haired glamour girl, we leave this sarong (latest Adrian design) so, at her first opportunity, she may show Dorothy Lamour what real competition is.

To Phillip Vincello, the ready, willing, and always able bookworm, we leave, with regrets, this handsome pair of form-fitted, cut-glass, horn-rimmed spectacles, which, we feel, will be a dire necessity if he continues to keep up the pace which won him the title of most studious boy.

To Anne Johnson, the most studious senior girl, we leave this comic magazine with the suggestion that she drop her books for a while and enjoy a little diversion.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand and seal and publish and declare this to be the Codicil to our last Will and Testament, in the presence of the Witnesses named below, this fifth day of June, A. D., 1940.

Class Prophecy

On Wednesday, the 29th day of November in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty nine, lifting up my voice, I proclaimed that Waltham would upset Brockton by one touchdown. From this, my initial adventure in prognostication, I arise with my head bloody but unbowed, and with an optimism which will not be downed I am leading with my chin again.

I ask you, therefore, to visualize your prophet as a radio broadcaster, which role he has chosen more from plot necessity than from aptitude, bringing you a description of an Inaugural Parade from Washington sometime in the distant future. "This is David Fitzgerald speaking from a balcony above Pennsylvania Avenue where I will attempt to describe to you the Inaugural Parade and at the same time keep in touch with the rest of the country by means of news flashes. Contrary to the usual custom the Inaugural Parade is being held without the President. President Johnstone's social secretary, Eleanor Betts, thought it would be nice if the President received everyone who had his High School picture at the Victory Ball last night. At last reports the President's arm is still paralyzed but physicians were beginning to hope. Today the Chief Executive's place is being taken by his bodyguard, Willie Richards. Since the President is a bachelor, his campaign manager, Al Gauthier, conducted a Nation-wide contest for the position of First Lady. Riding in the Presidential Car are the twelve finalists: Ruth Belliveau, Elaine Cahill, Marjorie Dow, Fay Chapin, Marjorie Farnsworth, Genevieve Chiasson, Marilynne Collomb, Marjorie Freeman, Marion Jones, Mary Keefe, Dorothy Lawson, and Janice Loving.

Closely following the President's car is campaign manager Al Gauthier and those famous political bosses: Albert Burke, Hal Neelon, Walter Foote, Ben Algeri, Walter Cassidy, Ronny MacArthur, Gerald Burgess, Paul Trombley and Ed. Flannery; accompanied by their official hostesses: Wilma Greenlaw, Rita Dube, Anne Drury, Regine Hanna, Betty Mosher, Madeline O'Hare, Dorothy Peterson, Estelle Shields, and Mary Malone. Gauthier was always a good politician and could put anyone in office except himself.

Next comes General Robert Collins, Army Chief of Staff, and his staff generals, Rigoli, Besso, Butcher, Janes, McClellan, and McHugh. Ellen MacAlpine, Barbara Page and Denise Roth are in charge of the women's battalions. Following the Army is the Diplomatic Corps led by the newly appointed Ambassador to the Irish Free State, Mr. Philip Vincello (When asking for the appointment, Mr. Vincello told the President that he simply had to get back to the Old Country). With Ambassador Vincello are Consuls William Connelly, Don Morrison, John Archdeacon, Clarence Arsenault, Lawrence Eden, Arnold Sarmanian, Phil Jones, Paul Mulvihill and Paul Muise, delegates to the newly-formed German Provinces.

The next group is the President's Cabinet, which seems to be built around Mr. Edwin Briggs, Secretary of Education. Mr. Briggs intends to make the study of Astronomy a required subject. Ted always spent a lot of time gazing at the moon.

Accompanying Briggs are Sec. of the Treasury Bob Stevens (always good at high finance—remember the buses to Revere), Sec. of War Betty Andrews (when it comes to fighting Betty knows the answers) and Secretaries Priscilla Grey, Estelle Dessell, Irene Desmond, Mary Dolan, Elizabeth Crane, Betty Crook, Marjorie Melanson and Irene Millar. In the corner of the car is Sec. of Labor Conrad Teele asleep. Questioned on his views concerning labor, Mr. Teele replied 'I'm agin it."

Miss Ruth Hogan, Mr. Gauthier's secretary has asked me to acknowledge over the air these telegrams of congratulation. The first one is from the Waltham Mother's Club and is signed by President Dorothea Barnicle, Jeanne Berggren, Barbara Boyd, Helen Brady, Barbara Brewster,

All signed their maiden names lest the President fail to recognize them. Pinned to this telegram is one from the Mother's Club Auxiliary signed by Roy Leaf, Peter Muise, Edward Millen, John Neil, Gerald Richards, Charles Blanchard, Richard Daniels, Everett Haines, William Petrie and Richard Larson.

That is a new one on me, but all clubs have auxiliaries, so why not Mother's Clubs?

I think I hear the Marine Band! Are those drum majorettes? Yes! Eleanor Kelly, Helen Leary, Paulette Lewis, Frances Cusack, Jean MacKinnon, Eleanor Turner, Pauline MacLennan, Ruth Waite, Evelyn Whalen, Marion Walsh, Virginia Johansen and Dorothy Harper are right out front. My assistant, Roland LaMontagne, tells me that this is the first year the Marine Band has admitted women to their ranks. Also in the band are our famous musicians: Ruth Dahlin, Marjorie Daley, Louise Hickie, Rita Hamel, Eleanor Magazu, Betty McDougall, Florence Lelievre, Rita McGough, Isabelle Marlinska and Rose Sottile.

Here's a news flash, Bob Connor, the Boston Bruins center has just been arrested for murder. It seems that when Hector Roussean shot the winning goal of the Stanley Cup finals, Russ Brown, the official scorer, gave the assist to Perley Grant—quite naturally Connor shot him. Nathan Kane, Connor's lawyer, has pleaded justifiable homicide.

District Attorney, Martin Coleman, has summoned John Fallo, Rudolph Fiorelli, Marjorie Johnson Pearl LeBlanc, Eleanor Meisner, Marie Le Fort, Carmello Caminiti, Edith Maher, Erna Smith and Angela Niose as witnesses.

Now back to the parade; the members of the Senate are passing in review. In the first car is Senator James LaCava, leader of the minority bloc. Mr. LaCava has spent twenty years in Congress and never voted "Yes" on a single bill. With Mr. LaCava are Senators Doris Whitcomb, Bertillie Lochman, Barbara Weeks, Ruth Kaufman, Catherine Sousa, Patricia Claflin, Eleanor Morash, Anne Pemberton, Joyce Turner, Marjorie Reidt, Dot Poirier, and Ruth Pottle. As you probably know LaCava is the last man in the Senate.

Another telegram has just been received from the Joe & Nemo's Goulash Joint, signed by the owner Bud Carter and his assistants: Buzzy Cane, Hank Kelly, Sumner Hammond, Fred Kennedy, Walter Harvey, Wilbur Fancy, Paul Britton Robert Lane, and Vincent Morreale.

Looking around the press box, I see such famous journalists as Roger Gallagher, George Shedd, Richard Southwick, Carol Thurston, Muriel Healey, Charles Manning, Stella Strazdas, Ann Tebbets, Celia Shapiro, Evelyn McKenzie, Phyllis Thorne, and Nellie Tamulewicz.

We have just had another flash, Mr. Robert Clemence expert on everything, has just applied for the right to broadcast a television puppet show to Mars. Mr. Clemence admitted that he did not expect the Martians to appreciate his broadcast, "But", he said, "Think of the publicity." Assisting Clemence are Jeanne Finan, Evelyn Hurley, Barbara Ducey, Edith Lovequist, Mildred Lindstrom, Helen LeFort, Arline White, Mary Littlewood, Constance Rigoli, Madalene Salamone, Jean Voyer and Mary Damoisseau.

We wish to remind you that immediately following this broadcast, there will be a broadcast from Miami giving play by play the game between the Boston Red Sox and the Miami Chiffon Stockings. The starting lineup is as follows: For the Chiffon Stockings in the left field is the Ty Cobb of the feminine baseball world, Helen Bonica — in C. F. Virginia Adams, and in R. F. that famous ball hawk and base stealer Hilda Berman. At 3rd base is Helen Coleman. At short stop heavy (and I do mean heavy) hitter and fancy fielder Constance Fuller — at 2nd base Phyllis Hansen — at 1st base Barbara Hodgkins — and the battery Grace Lipps and Arlene Mehring.

The Red Sox — In left field Ted Bartlett — In C. F. Reed Brown — In R. F. Joe Defina — at 3rd base Theodore Brown — at short stop John Forster — at 2nd base Robert Peeling — at 1st base Charles Small and the battery John and Stanley Long.

Ah! a telegram from Johnson's Drug Corp. The corporation is composed of students who drove the store into bankruptcy by keeping out cash customers, then took it over to save its reputation. The message is signed by Presidents John Fuzzy Forsdick, Don Cox, Guy Sanderson, Don MacLennan, Marion Munster, Eleanor McKenna, Phyllis Wanberg, Robert Nelson, Bob Dwyer, and Priscilla Wetherbee.

Back to the parade again — here comes a very natty division, attired in white jockey satin embellished with gold braid and carrying polished silver shovels — Washington's Street Cleaners led by Lawrence Tobin and including Robert Martin, Charles Bright, Charles Broderick, Grover Barberick, Lloyd Carlson, Sam Belliveau, Anthony Bertolami, John Cain, Benedict Buono, Francis Cacciatore, and Americo Mega.

Here's a telegram from far away Algeria from Sergeant Robert Doyle of the French Foreign Legion. It seems that Ken Eberhard invented an electrical caddy so there was nothing for loopers Tom Doyle, Bob LeBlanc, Bill Tappley, Hugh Gardner, Bob Whitney, Pete Rizzo, John Rogers to do but join the Foreign Legion. Rumor hath it that the boys are teaching the Arabs to play golf — with no competition it looks like a caddy heaven. "Stick around, boys, there'll be doubles."

At this time we also wish to remind you that tonight over these stations George Manning will bring you blow by blow an account of the world's heavy weight championship boxing bout between "Terrible Trinkets Ruggles" and "Invincible Vincent Bosworth." At the weighing ceremonies today, which were attended by Managers George Killam and Carl Erikson, and promoter Brad. Daniels (called the honest brakeman because he never stole a freight car) it was announced that Philo Strickland would referee. The eminent betting commissioner (bookie to you) Tommy Pierce announced that the odds were 9—10 and "You can have 'em."

A congratulatory missive has just been received from the feminine start in the New Picture "Rule Britannia" — Elvera Algeri, Josephine Fanara, Marie Alvarez, Marie Bry, Carmela Aquilia, Josephine Barbanti, Angelina Demeo, Margaret Bonomo, Concetta Bordenca, Rose Castellano, Christine Cusano, Marie Meola, Antoinette Tortorella and Rosalie Giuliano.

To my mind the best part of the parade is passing now — the Fire Department. The division is lead by Chief Robert Torrey who has swallowed enough smoke (not from burning buildings) to make him immune forever to smoke prostration. Immediately following are the Fire Laddies Charles Hayes, Ray Drury, Herbert Hickman, Adam Enos, Alfred DiGregory and Fire Lassies, Marguerite DeVoe, Kathleen De Coster, Dorothy McAdoo, Delia Palumbo, Angelina Rizzi, Nita Robertson, and Ruth Johnston.

News Flash — The P. G. Students at Waltham High have gone on strike because they refused to listen to the same anecdotes, illustrating lectures, year after year. Superintendent of Schools Gilbert Mahan said the school would not compromise and he was supported by the following teachers: Marion Wagner, Ann Burke, June Carlson, Helen Connor, John Cronin, Helen Dunn, Anne Harrington, Ruth Leishman, Frank Smith, Olga Underhill, and Gordon Smith.

Following the Fire Department comes the Traffic Division of the Washington Police led by Captain Greg Fortune. Greg knows the punishment for every possible traffic violation (experience is truly a great teacher). Under the captain's command are Anthony Alberti, William Bushey, Gaeton Coraccio, Armand Coutu, George Dorval, James Fitzgerald, Edward Hamm, John Hickey, Francis Kelley, Bruce Klint and Walter Kokidko.

The Police Contingent marks the end of the parade. The Presidential Party will repair immediately to the White House for the Inaugural Ball, where entertainment will be provided for all tastes — The newest illegal review (starring Lizzie Quigley) has been imported from Broadway. Liz is supported by: Muriel Aucoin, Lorraine Begin, Phyllis Bowman, Marilouise Callahan, Louise Carrabes, Carmella Casella, Germaine Chiason, Marguerite Clark, Edgherita Carr, Mildred Cotton, and Gertrude Coyle.

The wise boys say that Paul Miele, Marshall LaForet, Tom Burley, Bobby Clark, Francis Terrio, Rosario Giuliano and the rest of the Hydroxide Radical (the O. H. group) have deserted Scollay Square in favor of Washington since the program was announced.

For the higher minds in the audience (if there are any) a group of dramatic players featuring Hope Goodell, Eleanor Joyal, Harriet Fennell, Rita Foley, Louise Flodin, Helen Hickey, Jane Hoffses, Ruth Martell, Priscilla Mayo, Claire Nolan, and Doris Newman has been chosen from all the leading plays of the moment to give a series of short sketches at the Ball.

Dancing will be to the music of Jack Wolk and his famous band including Jean Peckham, Florence Parker, Myrtle Polley, Edwin Prescott, John Quinn, George Sangermano, Clifford Shelin, Basil Vanaria, Melvin Norton, Robert MacKusick, Ralph Lodge and Paul LeBlanc.

And a last news' flash — the victorious U. S. Olympic Team comprised of Edna Mitchell, Barbara Connor, Louise Monaco, Edward Cain, Edna Greene, Mary Mase, Louis Lituri, Don MacClellan, Thomas Walker, Mimi Rizzo, Irene Zografos, Fred Scammon, Charles Schaufus, Helen Schofield, Billy Park and Doris Roughsedge will be entertained at the Stork Club by Anne Johnson, blues singer, successor to Ella Fitzgerald. Her chorus of beauties from left to right are Betty Washburn, Noel Temple, Frances Webster, Ruth Uhlin, Minnie Giamo, Antoinette Cucinotta, Nina Ferro, Pauline Galinauski, Clara Kotsifas, Elouise Lackenbauer, Sylvia Levison and Marguerite Lupo.

Roy Sweeney (in the control room) is making despairing gestures, so I gather that my time is more than up. This is station W. H. S. signing off.

DAVID SMALL FITZGERALD, 1940.

Class Advisors

MR. GEORGE L. WARD, Sub-Master
Senior Class Advisor, Faculty Manager of Baseball

Mr. George L. Ward, our genial Submaster and Senior Advisor, has been associated with the Waltham Senior High School for thirty-five years. A graduate of Phillips Andover Academy, he furthered his education at Yale, where he received his B. A. degree. Later, at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., he received his M. A. degree.

During the time he has been in the High School, he has served in the past as Director of Senior Plays, turning out many fine performances. For thirty-four years he has been Faculty Manager of Baseball, and takes as keen an interest today in the success of the team as he did when first appointed. For some time he was Advisor to the junior class, but at the present time the large senior class requires all of his attention. In 1936 he was made Submaster.

Mr. Frank Sheehy, Juniors, left;
Mr. Ralph Hollis, Sophomores, right

Mr. William Gallagher has been at Waltham High since 1936. He is a graduate of Boston College, where he received his A. B. degree, specializing in Latin and history, both modern and ancient.

He is now attending Harvard Graduate School, and is working for an Ed.M. degree, majoring in Secondary School Administration.

He has always been Special Advisor to the Sophomore College Course, and now in addition is Freshman Class Advisor. He is also actively engaged as Faculty Manager of the tennis team.

Mr. Francis Sheehy came to Waltham High in 1928. He is an alumnus of Dartmouth College, where he was greatly interested in biology and economics. Although studies occupied much of his time he still found the opportunity to captain both the hockey and golf teams. His proficiency in the latter sport especially is indicated today by the consistently low scores he makes on even "tough" courses. Three years ago, in 1937, he was made advisor to the junior class, whose members marvel much at his intimate knowledge of biology and their own mental processes.

Mr. Ralph Hollis, popularly known as "The Keeper of the Keys", was elected to the teaching staff of the High School in 1924. He is a graduate of Thayer Academy and Boston University, where he specialized in physics.

For eight years, from 1924 to 1932 he served as Junior Class Advisor, and for the last eight years as Advisor for the Sophomore Class. His hobby is in connection with amateur radio, and for several years he conducted a radio club in the school.

As every student in the school knows, Mr. Hollis holds the "key" to many and many a situation, and whether it is helping some unfortunate fellow get his locker open, or guiding an individual or a class along the best path, he always seems to know the most satisfactory solution.

Class of 1940

Seated: left to right, Marion Wagner, Secretary; Bertillie Lochman, Vice-President
Standing: left to right, Robert Martin, Auditor; Richard Johnstone, President.

Class of 1940

VIRGINIA A. ADAMS
105 Hardy Pond Road
Teachers' College Course
"Jinny" would like to become a lawyer for a large concern. She likes tall people, scavanger hunts, driving, and dislikes conceited people, homework and trolley cars. Her favorite expression is, "Look who just went by!" Activities include tennis, baseball and Dramatic Club.

ANTHONY ALBERTI
261 Newton Street
Practical Arts Course
Smiling Tony hasn't sprouted any wings yet but he hopes to acquire a pair if he can fulfill his ambition of becoming an aviator. But whatever he does he hopes he will be a complete success in his job. After graduation he plans to work in a filling station.

BENJAMIN J. ALGERI
124 Bright Street
Practical Arts Course
Although Ben is active enough when it comes to sports—as witness his three years on the football team and his two years on the hockey team—he, by nature, confesses that otherwise he dislikes to be disturbed by anyone or anything, such as homework. But a trip around the world, he thinks, would be rather nice.

ELVERA J. ALGERI
38 Calvary Street
College Course
Vera would be completely happy if she could, while eating one of Mr. Hodge's apples, see a good play, filled with puns, accompanied by soft music! Undoubtedly she would then exclaim "Golly!" She has been active on Mirror Literary Staff and Dramatic Club for two years and hopes to attend Simmons College.

MARIE L. ALVAREZ
12 Woerd Avenue
Business Course
Ask Marie whether she wants a thick steak smothered in onions and see if she doesn't say "Sure thing!" Steaks are her weakness as she honestly admits, and honesty is her best virtue. She is a member of the Commercial Club.

BETTY ANDREWS
8 Clements Road
College Course
Betty likes to say: "Caesar was ambitious and so am I." Anyone knowing Betty can well believe her. Her numerous activities include Junior Prom, Alumni Dance, and Senior Play Committees; Mirror Literary Committee Chairman; Dramatic Club Treasurer; Senior High School reporter; College Club and P. T. A. Meetings Usher.

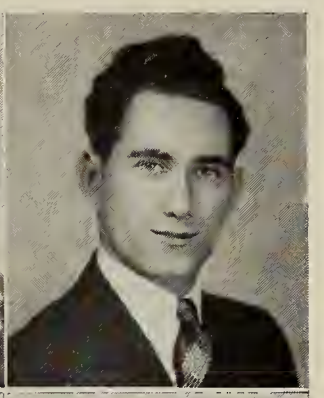
CARMELA L. AQUILIA
73 Harvard Street
Business Course
As drawing and sewing are "Carmie's" hobbies, she hopes to be a dress designer. Her favorite expression is "You're fresh" which no doubt has something to do with L. B.'s teasing. Cheerful people are among her many likes but snobbish people are not. Was a member of the Commercial Club 39-40.

JOHN P. ARCHDEACON
85 Pine Street
Civic Course
John's ambition is the worthy one of "being a success in whatever I do". With that aim he probably will attain his ambition of getting a good job and traveling around the world. He likes good movies and good friends and plenty of sleep.

CLARENCE J. ARSENAULT
111 Charles Street
Civic Course
"Chick's" particular hobbies are building boat models and eating. Like many other disillusioned mortals he is prejudiced against the fair sex and plans to be anywhere but where they are to be found. His favorite expression is, "Hey, hey! You know me!"

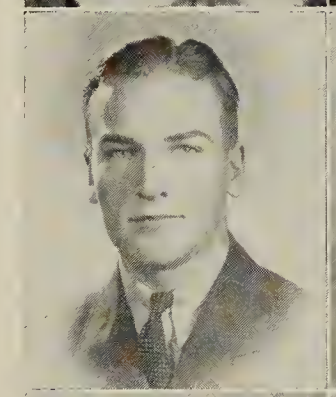
MURIEL J. AUCOIN
116 Bright Street
Practical Arts Course
Muriel, or "Frenchy", hopes to become a dental nurse. She specially likes dancing, traveling (she hopes to see, in time, both Santo Domingo and Heaven!), and swimming. She can't stand hearing water boil. Activities include hockey, bowling and baseball.

JOSEPHINE R. BARBANTI
Business Course
391A River Street
Likes to listen to the Hit Parade and to play the piano. Wants to be an office worker. Favorite expression is "Next time go by train! Hello Chicken!"



GROVER C. BARBARICK
"Dimples"
76 Arcadia Avenue
Civic Course
Wants to be a boxing champion. Would like to travel to Florida. Guns as a hobby and delights in saying "Cheese and Crackers" six times a day at the table; sleeping, and taking girls out are among his activities. Likes good music and cowboy ballads and has a weakness for good looking girls.

THEODOORE C. BARTLETT
("Ted")
College Course
Prefers good looking girls minus war paint. Likes sports and money. Dislikes silly girls, and people who know it all. Wants to become a photo engraver. Activities include Safety Council representative.

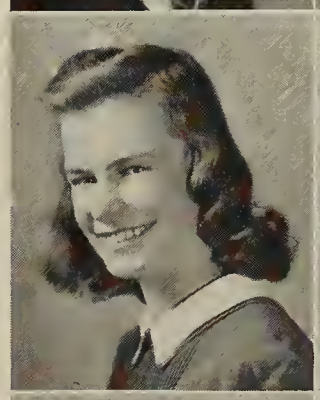


LORRAINE M. BEGIN ("Shorty")
82 South Street
Business Course
Collects sea shells as a hobby. Desires to become a physical education teacher. Activities include field hockey. basketball, volley ball, archery, and baseball. Dislikes jitterbugs and getting up early in the morning. Best virtue is taking a joke. Favorite expression is "Wouldn't you like to know."

ANSELME P. BELLIVEAU
("Sammy")
Civic Course
Likes dogs, dumb animals and the 9:20 club. Worst fault is not being able to keep away from bowling. Wants to be a business manager of a department store. Often says "So, so." Keeps an album. Activities include bowling, basketball, baseball, football and hockey.

RUTH M. BELLIVEAU
("Frenchie," "Buttons")
313 School Street
College Course
Likes books, music and sports. Dislikes smooth men. Pet expression "Jeepers Creepers." Hobby collecting postcards and dance programs. Ambition to be a librarian and travel. Destination Simmons (New York.) Activities include Mirror Literary Commintt 1, 2, 3, Mirror Room Agent North Junior Dance Committees, Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, Field Hockey, Baseball, Basketball Red Cross Agent.

JEANNE T. BERGGREN
85 Weston Street
Teachers' College Course
"Ecoutez!" says Jeannie when she wants someone to pay attention. But even though she goes French in her expression she hopes some day to visit Sweden. Her ambition is to be a nurse. She has been assembly pianist and a member of the orchestra for three years, also has been in Senior Play Cast and Dramatic Club Plays.



HILDA B. BERMAN
71 Caughey Street
Business Course
"Bunny" likes rare perfumes, enjoyable company, Lux Radio Theatre and Bob Hope's jokes. Her pet hobbies are bicycling and reading. Likes to drive a car, play tennis, see a show once a week, listen to the 9:20 club, and collect stamps. Dislikes to read poems, do homework. and get up in the morning. Often says "Hot sketch." Hopes to be an aviator in the Aviation Corp.

ELEANOR L. BETTS
("Betsy" "Hun")
94 Howard Street
Business Course
Ambition is to be a success in whatever she does. Hopes to travel to Chicago, New York or other distant places. Collects souvenirs as a hobby. Was active in the social committee of the Commercial Club. ""Taint the way I heard it" but she likes the color blue and people with personalities. Dislikes tall story tellers.

Class of 1940

CHARLES E. BLANCHARD
245 Charles Street
Business Course
To be a good stenographer and to have a good lawyer is "Sonny's" ambition. The first is understandable but what are you going to do, Charles that will require a good lawyer? Tinkering with automobiles is his hobby and lstening to 1:00 A. M. radio programs his weakness.

ARTHUR L. BOMENGEN
144 Robbins Street
Trade School—Printing
"Art" or "Bomie" was active in Varsity Basketball during his three years. Always managed to sit and rest near the window — wants to be a printer.

HELEN C. BONICA ("Butch")
161 Bright Street
College Course
Expects to go to Boston University and then become a French teacher. A consistent member of the honor roll. Collects programs and ticket stubs. Likes cafeteria's crabmeat sandwiches and listening to "Strings and Things." Fault is putting things off until the last minute. Favorite expression is "Well, Gee Whiz."

MARGARET M. BONOMO
203 River Street
Teachers College
Although "Miggie" likes the 9:20 club she dislikes high heels and peepers. Her ambition is to become a commercial artist or dress designer. Activities include Cheer Leader, 3, Field Hockey, Basketball, Volley Ball and baseball. Her favorite expression is "Ecoute" to Jeannie.

Class of 1940

CHARLES BRIGHT
80 Bruce Road
Business Course
Charlie and his orchestra are now so well known that no one will be surprised at his ambition to become a first-class orchestra leader or that he plans to go to a good school of music. Keeping late hours made him dislike staying awake in class but at that he did his homework every night.

CHARLOTTE J. BRY ("Wee")
6 Amberst Avenue
Business Course
Likes to roller skate and dislikes jitterbugs. Collects dogs. Worst fault is talking and often says "If it only could be." Wants to see the New York World's Fair. Activities include cafeteria and the Commercial Club.

GERALD R. BURGESS
82 Hardy Pond Road
, "Jerry's" hobby is hunting and since he would like to be a detective it apparently makes little difference whether he hunts animals or men. But right now the would-be detective has a strong aversion to sessions and an equally strong liking for good music and books.

LLOYD CARLSON ("Lloydie")
98 Seminole Avenue
Civic Course
Likes all sports, hot fudge sundaes, dancing, and Bob Hope's radio program — dislikes economics — often says, "Could be" — hobby is all sports — ambition is become a commercial air pilot.

WILLIAM H. CONNELLY
"Weary"
12 Highland Street
Business Course
Ambition is to own a big league baseball team but his destination is undecided, favorite expression is "Hawaus" (translated means "How are you") —is quite interested in all sports. Activities include baseball and Honor Roll. Likes Italian spaghetti dinners but dislikes talkative people. Listens to "Information Please". Worst fault, quietness best virtue, quietness.

MARY V. DAMOISEAU
Pinevale Road
Practical Arts Course
"May" hopes to get a good job as a dietician where her best virtue of always being polite will help immensely. She enjoys eating sweets, swimming, dancing and skating but dislikes to see girls smoke in public.

ROBERT A. DOYLE ("Trapper")
148 Hammond Street
Civic Course
Favorite expression is "Come on, Burdett, get a move on." Hobbies are golf, basketball, baseball, tennis, and sailboating. Ambition is to be a successful salesman and to win the winter circuit golf. Destination is Texas or Nevada at Hickey's expense. Activities include Basketball Team and Golf Team.

JOHN C. FALLO ("Jack")
Pine Hill Circle
Civic Course
Likes big league baseball games, hockey, swimming, ping pong, Glenn Miller's music, Jack Benny. Dislikes to get up at 7:15. Hopes to be Mayor of Lakeview or to do gardening work. Often says "Well all right then".

EDWARD J. FLANNERY ("Ed")
16 Boynton Street
College Course
Desires to be financially happy and successful but lacks the destination wherewith to accomplish this. Likes the outdoors, particularly swimming and fishing, and soft sweet music. Dislikes loud, silly girls. Virtue is carrying gayety about with him. Bad quality is failure to collect money owed to himself.

RITA A. FOLEY
(Re-RE, Pet, Pal)
74 Pine Hill Circle
Business Course
Likes all sports, the Hit Parade, the 9:20 club, Lux Radio Theatre, and collecting pictures and souvenirs. Wants to be successful as a hairdresser. Often says "That's what you think". Dislikes to get up in the morning. Is always on time and is never late.

ROGER GALLAGHER
96 Robbins Street
Civic Course
"Rog" doesn't like to brag but he would like to write successfully about his own exploits in aviation. His destination is Western Electric. Activities include Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, Literary Staff of Mirror 2, 3, Dramatic Club Play. He dislikes practical jokes.

ROSALIE M. GUILIANO ("Sally")
19 Middle Street
Practical Arts Course
Hopes to travel to Arizona and Puerto Rico. Hobby is collecting pictures of famous movie actors. Favorite expression is "Gee Whiz!" Likes study periods, books and cowboy songs. Worst fault is walking too fast.

CHARLES F. HAYES ("Sabi")
96 Newton Street
Civic Course

Hopes to become "King of the caddies" or to work at the Fore River Ship Yards. Likes hot fudge sundaes and ice cream, the 9:20 club and Bing Crosby. Collects stamps. Frequently says "Howdy Cowboy". Dislikes all homework. Worst fault is not doing it. Played hockey in 1937-38, and 1938-39.

GILBERT G. MAHAN
224 Robbins Street
Civic Course

"Gil's" favorite diversion is drawing. After graduation he expects to to go to some art school and develop his talent. His favorite expression is "What's the score?"

HUGH J. McBRIDE
("Red", "Glamour Boy")
307 School Street
Civic Course

Likes to spend his time at a girl's house for an evening. Goes in for stamp collecting and golf. Dislikes to get up in the morning. Hopes to be a bike peddler for the Western Union or to join the Navy and see the World through a port hole. Often says "Oh! Yeah!" and blushes when put in embarrassing positions.

ROBERT PEELING
55 Boynton Street
Civic Course

You can almost hear "Bob" sigh, "Oh, for the life of a sailor!" His ambition is to sail the seven seas. His worst fault is day dreaming and his best virtue is his musical rhythm. His activities include band member and usher at football games.

CLAIRE M. MIGNEAULT ("Red")
25 Yetten Terrace
Business Course

Ambition is to travel and to work in an office. Activities include Commercial Club 3, Basketball 1, 2, Baseball 2, 3, Volley ball 1, 3. Hobbies are foreign correspondence, reading, singing. Likes music, books. Favorite expression is "It's obvious."

LOUISE A. MONACO ("Lefty Lou," Southpaw", "Monk", Lucky")
12 Harvard Place
Business Course

Likes English, chocolate frappes, Johann Strauss, Victor Herbert, Dinner Dance Music, Lux Radio Theatre, and the Campbell Playhouse. Often says "Is that right?" Wants to be a newspaper reporter or criminologist. Maybe go to work. Was assistant sports editor of the Mirror. Member of the Commercial Club. Played hockey and baseball.

DELIA PALUMBO
7 Ford Street
Business Course

Although Delia likes collecting poetry, and is interested in music, well written books and similar subjects opera is a little too much for her. She places homework in the same category as opera, too. She wants above everything else to be successful in whatever she does.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

We, the members of the Junior Class, were heralded into the Waltham Senior High School one sunny day last September to travel our various courses for another year in our journey toward Seniorhood and graduation. Well broken in to school routine by an "apprenticeship" year as sophomores, it was an easy task, comparatively, to avoid the pitfalls which confront the younger members of the school.

Numerous members of our class figured prominently in the various school organizations such as the Dramatic Club, Commercial Club, and so on, and the various sports such as football, basketball, baseball, and hockey. Nor were we laggards when it came to literary achievements for we Juniors had contributed about thirty eight percent of the articles appearing in the Spring Issue of the Mirror. We had thirty-one more articles than the Freshmen, nine more than the Sophomores, and even seven more than the lordly Seniors. Count 'em up and see for yourself!

The highlight of the Junior Year has not yet taken place, but by the time this Commencement Issue is in your hands it will have burst forth in in all its glory. Of course, the Junior Prom is referred to, taking place this year on May 24. Under the leadership of Chairman "Ozzie" Falling it is bound to prove itself an even bigger success than it has ever been.

And now here we are again at the end of another school year, getting ready to put one more year into the discard with a comfortable feeling that much has been learned during the course of it and the hope that, as seniors next year, we will put to effective use what knowledge we have acquired this year.

ROBERT HEALY, '41.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1942, which began in the fall to participate in high school activities, became a unit after it had elected, early in the year its class officers. Also some of the Sophs entered into the following sports.

FOOTBALL Sumner Goldman made the regular team. Others such as George Sederquist, Francis Barnicle, and Richard Hovey, showed definite promise for future stardom.

HOCKEY Earl Richardson and Seth Johnson actively participated and Bill Dennen was the assistant manager.

BASKETBALL Roger Johnson and Cliff Adams were on the second team and are headed for the varsity (we hope).

TENNIS Bob Eaton, George Olson, and Joseph Hollicker.

GOLF "Nicky" Abramo and Henry Joyal rolled the golf ball around the course for us.

During the year some invaded other fields besides athletics with Warren Chase winning the sophomore Book Week prize.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

History is being made by this, the class of '43, and how we have made that history shall soon be told, for that we are a most unusual class is our firm opinion (although the teachers may consider us unusual in a different fashion!)

The first days at school showed us that we were as babes in the woods, for bewildering were the ways of the Senior High School with its one way stairs, double lunch periods, east and west wings, and numerous rooms. Once even has it been whispered that while seeking the Freshman Science Class we wound up in a Senior Biology Class! Be that as it may, our adaptable natures soon fitted in most serenely with normal school life, and we felt proud to be the first Freshman Class in the Senior High School for a very long time.

It did not take us long to elect an efficient group of officers for our class, or to select an appropriate class motto "In Omnia Paratus", and Prepared for All Things, we have proved we are.

Although, in spite of careful preparations, we were unable to have a sleigh ride in January as we had planned (the weather man failed to co-operate), we did not lack for social entertainment. On March 15 we held a grand social, combined with the ninth grades of the South Junior and North Junior High Schools. The gala time was made even better through the fine rhythm and style of Charlie Bright's Orchestra.

In addition to making a good showing on the Honor Rolls our class has been active in many other ways, too, for we have had eight members on the band or orchestra, two on the Dramatic Club, two on the football squad, three out for bowling, basketball, and field hockey, two out for tennis, and one out for hockey.

With such a distinguished galaxy of stars in our midst our Sophomore year should be fully as history making as this, our Freshman, year.

Football this year was not quite up to par, but yet it furnished many a thrill.

The team started off the season in fine fashion when it held a powerful and favored Rindge team to a scoreless tie. This was followed by a 12—7 win over a plucky Agawam team, inserted in the schedule to fill an open date.

When a strong Somerville outfit heralded by many as the team to beat, was held to a scoreless tie, and a weak but shifty Revere team was beaten 24—0, hope ran high for a really good season.

A tie with mediocre Haverhill somewhat dampened these hopes, which were revived by a win over Lynn English. Then came the Arlington steam roller and a win by Medford by a single touch down.

A most satisfying win over Newton, followed by another victory over Providence Central seemed to indicate plenty of opposition for Brockton. But the Shoe Makers were far too strong and walked away with an easy win before the largest crowd of the season.

The team had its full quota of stars with Dick Johnstone, a schoolboy punter without equal; Bud Carter, hard running fullback; and Bill Manning, a pass snatching end modeled on the lines of Larry Kelley of Yale. Defensive standouts were linemen Fred Kennedy and Bob Nyholm and line backer Bingo Leaf.

Bill Manning was elected next year's captain.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

The basketball team of the past season played in hard luck from the beginning to the end of the season. A defending champion team with six veterans, Waltham was the pre-season favorite. To the very end the team showed flashes of championship form, but a tendency to have one bad period in every game, and an inability to sink fouls and lay ups caused a disastrous season.

Outstanding in defeat was Dead-eye Bobby Lane, capably supported by Rangy Bill Manning and Dick Bennett, both capable floor players. Captain Toby MacDonald led the team in scoring.

Veterans returning next year include Manning, Bennett, Okakle, Norton, Petrovitz, Demarais, Samuels, and Leaf.

HOCKEY

The 1940 Hockey Team was unsurpassed by any team in the history of the Bay State League. The Crimson went through the regular season undefeated and untied—a new record. Not until the last game in the play offs did they falter a trifle, but they finished with the best record in the league and won the C. V. Brown Trophy.

Grant, Rousseau and Connor proved themselves definitely the best line in schoolboy hockey. Kennedy and Leaf (a pair of rugged defensemen) played smart, steady hockey, and had a great deal to do with the fine record compiled. Grant received the award for the Most Valuable Player.

BASEBALL

BASEBALL

As the Mirror goes to press, Waltham High's baseball team is still in the fight for the Suburban League baseball championship. With a record of seven wins and two defeats, the Watchmakers shaped up as the best baseball team in the past five years. With an almost veteran infield of Johnstone, Lane, Rousseau and Dion, added to a slugging backstop, Perley Grant, and "Basher Bill" Manning in the outfield, the team seems destined to go far. The chief danger is in the pitching department and "Bingo" Leaf, John Clancy, Bob Clark and Martin Coleman seem to have everything under control here. New comers Bud Carter and Seth Johnson are holding down the two remaining positions in approved style. The capable substitutes include such steady players as Billy Park and Jack Wolk.

TRACK

With the graduation of George Wheeler last year Coach Brinn found himself this year almost without a place man except Capt. Ernie Frary, although a slight ray of hope was found in the person of Eddie Demaris, who is credited with a 56 second quarter. Demaris and Rutter run the dashes, Capt. Frary is in the half and Eddie Caine in the mile. Dick Bennet has won several firsts in the broad jump and Chandnoit puts the shot. Others on the squad besides those mentioned include Smelledge, Wanberg, Fair, Fancy, Rogers, Aliseo, Mogan, Falling, and Pendergast. Francis Dougherty is manager. Although the team has not won and may not win a meet this year, the outlook for next year is bright since all the trackmen are underclassmen.

TENNIS TEAM

The tennis team, a recent entrant into the Suburban League, has done surprisingly well in competition thus far this season with a win and loss total of four and two.

The mainstay of this year's team is Don Skakle, playing in the no. one singles position. Besides Don in the singles Bud Carter has gained the no. two singles position and he divides his time between tennis and baseball. The other top ranking singles players are: Bob Eaton, Nate Towne, Ted Millen and Harry Whalen. Most of these fellows will be back next year.

In doubles Sumner Hammond and Bob LeBlanc have been most consistent in winning. They are supported by: Hollis Broderick and Bob Eaton, Bud Carter and Don Skakle, Joe and Paul Hill, Joe Holicker and George Olson, Bob Eaton and Ted Millen, Roger and Bob Gallagher.

The team has various independant games listed and the two important ones are with Newton Seconds and St. Charles. At the close of the present season Mr. Gallagher plans to have the outstanding players participate in the State Tournament at Winchester, Mass.

The remaining teams in the league are: Belmont, Malden, Melrose, Watertown, Lexington, Arlington and Winthrop.

Paul Hill.

GOLF

Although the golf team, up to the Arlington match, had not attained a single victory, future prospects seem very promising. Almost the entire team consists of sophomores and juniors and the matches this year are laying the basis for a really good team next year.

To date Nicholas Abramo has been No. 1 man with the rest of the team fighting it out for runner-up positions. The closest match was at Lexington where the team was just nosed out 5 to 4.

At this writing no captain has been chosen, although Nick Abramo has been acting in that capacity.

The team playing the first match consisted of Nick Abramo, Tom O'Brien, Eliot Leaf, Edward Demarais, Henry Joyal, and Larry Doyle. Others on the squad are: Toby MacDonald, Lawrence Rogers, William Tapply, Arthur Hagen, and Donald MacLennan.

The sophomores are to be congratulated for their class victory with a total score of 9 ponits. The seniors were close behind, nevertheless, with a score of 8 points and the juniors, 7. Although the freshmen received no points during these interclass series, all showed up well and proved to be successful prospects for next year's contest. The varsity included Roughsedge (Sr.), Johnson (Jr.), Sparrow (Soph.), MacNally (Soph.), and LeCain (Soph.). LeCain reached the highest pinfall of 803. The summary:

The basketball season proved to be quite a success as the seniors wound up with a victory, a tie, and a defeat; the juniors, a tie, and the sophomores, two victories. As a result of a play day in Newton, our lassies came home with two out of three victories for W. H. S. The annual alumnae game came out successfully with the varsity on top with a score of 18—14 which was partly the result of Rose Costellano's fine captaincy and the excellent management of Marie Bry.

Seniors vs. Freshmen 74 points 14
Juniors vs. Freshmen 73 points 14

Besides the above mentioned sports, the girls also participated, during spring, in tennis, baseball, and archery. Interclass series are carried on but at this writing no schedule has been set.

FIELD HOCKEY

Field Hockey Captains
Edna Mitchell (Senior)
Doris Jacobs (Junior)
Wanda Petrovitch (Sophomore)

Although the hockey team was well organized and supervised by the Misses Sewall and Frost, it met defeat in all of its outside contests which consisted of two Weston games and a play day at Newton. But through fast stick work and cooperation of the entire team, good leadership of Captain Edna Mitchell and fine management of Gilda Sardi, our girls proved to both rivals that they had to work hard for their victories. The seniors, through more advanced practice and knowledge of the game managed to take the class title.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club is an organization for business students and is intended to combine social contacts with business information in a way that will be both pleasurable and profitable. This year the Club was composed of over a hundred members who early in the year elected a group of officers that perfomed all duties efficiently and well.

Seven meetings during the year were planned, of which two, at this writing, are still to be held: one, in the latter part of May, will consist of a vocational talk on How to Succeed in the Business World; the other, in June, will take the form of a picnic and weenie roast on Prospect Hill.

At three of the meetings, held in the Assembly Hall, motion pictures of skiing, Washington, D. C., and New York were shown. The Club also had the privilege of seeing as a preview the splendid picture of local industry and development "Waltham Marches On." Mr. Arnold,

Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a brief talk on business before the picture was shown.

Mr. Slayton gave an interesting talk at the first meeting of the year. The second meeting, in December, was carried through in keeping with the Spirit of Christmas since a party at which there was a musical program, readings, and refreshments provided everyone with a good time. Mr. Roche made up as a very excellent Santa Claus to distribute gifts.

From first to last, the year was both profitable and enjoyable for all. To Mr. Lees, Advisor of the Club, should go much of the credit for its success.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

Perhaps it is boasting slightly when we admit that we considered the Dramatic Club unusually successful this year. In the first place, membership reached the one-hundred mark, a sizable and convenient number, which included, besides seniors, a grand group of sophs and juniors just "oozing" with cooperation and enthusiasm. Secondly, our treasury was reassuringly full, a situation which was greatly augmented by the successful presentation of three one-act plays in December under the capable direction of Robert Clemence.

Then, too, we considered ourselves exceedingly lucky with the exceptional amount of talent (just "gobs" of it!) hidden among modest members, and brought to light in the several entertainments, among which were an amateur show, puppet show, short skits, Christmas party, and novelty program, all sponsored by the club.

The meetings, which were held the third Wednesday of each month, were presided over by the following officers: President Sumner Hammond, Vice-President Elizabeth Quigley, Secretary Richard Keenan, and Treasurer Betty Andrews. The members of the executive board, headed by Chairman Robert Clemence, were Patricia Claflin, Betty Andrews, Doris Whitcomb, Elizabeth Quigley, Clara Algeri, Doris Eastman, June Kellogg, Muriel Healey, Richard Keenan, Robert Healy, Robert Deacon, and Sumner Hammond. The group, as you see, was not only of upperclassmen, but representative of all other classes, a condition which prevailed throughout the club.

And now on behalf of the club, we wish to extend our sincere appreciation to our invaluable faculty director, Miss Edith Rand, to our president Sumner Hammond, to Robert Clemence whose energy and spirit injected lots of sparkle into the organization this year and to all the other who showed their interest in the Dramatic Club.

To next year's officers, President Robert Healy, Vice-president Wilma Winberg, Secretary Betty Eveler, and Treasurer Marie Murphy, we wish the best of luck and hope that they'll feel as completely smug and satisfied with themselves at the end of next year as we do this!
